WELL-CHILD VISITS ARE ESSENTIAL

In recent months, families have been doing their part by staying at home as much as possible to help stop the spread of COVID-19. As communities open up, it's important your child goes in for their well-child visit. These well-child visits are essential for many reasons, including:

- Tracking growth and development including milestones, social behaviors, and learning
- Discussing any concerns about your child's health
- Getting scheduled vaccinations to prevent illnesses like measles and whooping cough (pertussis) and 12 other serious diseases

Did you know that there were several outbreaks of measles and whooping cough in recent years? These diseases are extremely contagious and can be very serious, especially for babies and young children. As schools and daycares also begin to reopen, protecting children against these and other diseases makes these vaccinations particularly important.

Not sure what vaccines are needed when? Check out this easy-to-read schedule. Concerned about keeping your child safe? Call your doctor's office to see what special measures they might have in place. Many offices and clinics are taking extra steps to see children safely during this time, like:

- Scheduling sick visits and well-child visits during different times of the day
- Asking patients to remain outside until they are called into the facility to reduce crowding in waiting rooms
- Offering sick visits and well-child visits in different locations

If you need help paying for vaccines, ask your child's doctor or nurse about the Vaccines for Children program. This program provides free vaccines to children who are Medicaid-eligible, uninsured, underinsured, or American Indian/Alaska Native.

These are challenging times, but you have the power to help keep your child healthy. Making sure that your child sees his or her doctor for well-child visits and vaccines is one of the best things you can do to protect your child and community.

SUMMER CAMPS 2021

Athletic & Academic Summer Camps Grades K-8

No matter what your child's interests are, camp helps children develop important social, emotional and cognitive skills. The memories made at camp with their friends will last a lifetime.

We look forward to a summer in which we will return to some semblance of normalcy. These summer camps are a great way for students to help re-connect and feel a part of something.

We look forward to the day we see the kids walking into camp for the first time, seeing their friends, and feeling an overwhelming sense of connection.

The objective of Incarnate Word Academy Red Knight Summer Camps is to involve girls in a variety of safe and fun summer activities. The all-girls setting creates a joyful and supportive environment where girls feel comfortable trying new activities, gaining new skills, and making great friends. All IWA summer camp activities are based on the components of wellness: physical, emotional, spiritual, environmental, intellectual and social. Camps are directed by experienced and caring IWA faculty/staff professionals.

Incarnate Word Academy has instituted health and safety protocols for all our on-campus activities, including summer camps. Each participant is required to bring and wear an appropriate face mask for the duration of each camp session. Social distancing has been incorporated into all planning. In addition, participants are required to complete a mandatory COVID-19 checklist prior to the start of each camp session.
